Women's and Gender Studies Program, Three-Year Limited Term, Assistant Professor

The Women's and Gender Studies Program and the Department of Political Studies at the University of Saskatchewan invite applications from qualified academics, for a three-year limited term appointment to teach in Women's and Gender Studies, starting July 1, 2022. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor.

Qualifications:

Applicants must hold a completed PhD in the field (typically in Women's and Gender Studies; Gender, Sexuality, and Feminist Studies; Gender, Sexualities, Race and Social Justice Studies), with three years of demonstrated excellence in teaching, research and community engagement. The successful candidate will teach five term-length courses annually, spread across two terms, will be an active member of the Women's and Gender Studies Advisory Committee, and will participate in graduate student mentorship, as appropriate, with duties assigned by the Program Director.

We are seeking a collaborative-minded teacher-scholar who is building a reputation for excellence in the field of Women's, Gender, and Sexualities Studies, and who can contribute to one or more of our program's broad thematic areas: Indigenous, critical race and transnational feminisms; queer and sexualities studies; cultural and media studies. The position will be housed in the Department of Political Studies.

Formally established in 1996, Women's and Gender Studies has strong teaching and research links with several cognate units including: Art & Art History, English, History, Indigenous Studies, Philosophy, Political Studies, Psychology and Sociology, in a college that has identified "Gender and Sexualities" as a substantive research area. In 2015, the graduate program in Women's, Gender and Sexualities Studies was launched.

The College of Arts & Science offers a dynamic combination of programs in the humanities, fine arts, social sciences, and natural sciences. The College is home to more than 10,000 undergraduate and graduate students and 305 faculty members, including eleven Canada Research Chairs. The College emphasizes student and faculty research, interdisciplinary programs, community outreach and international opportunities. The University of Saskatchewan provides an excellent and active research environment.

The University of Saskatchewan's main campus is situated on Treaty 6 Territory and the Homeland of the Métis. The University of Saskatchewan is located in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, a city with a diverse and thriving economic base, a vibrant arts community and a full range of leisure opportunities. The University has a reputation for excellence in teaching, research and scholarly activities and offers a full range of undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs to a student population of over 25,000.

Salary Band:

Assistant Professor: $99,945 – $120,099

Benefits:

The position comes with a comprehensive benefits package which includes a dental, health and extended vision care plan; pension plan, life insurance (compulsory and voluntary), academic long-term disability, sick leave, travel insurance, death benefits, an employee assistance program, a professional expense allowance, and a flexible health and wellness spending program.

How to Apply:

Interested candidates must submit via email to: politicalstudies.departmenthead@usask.ca , a cover letter outlining your teaching and research interests and goals; a list of courses in our undergraduate and graduate programs that you are qualified to teach; an up-to-date CV.; a brief teaching dossier (including descriptions of relevant course taught or proposed for this position, and a brief summary of available teaching evaluations); a sample of recently published work; and letters from three academic referees, forwarded directly to the committee under separate cover, via the email provided.
